Green or Red?

Dilemma card

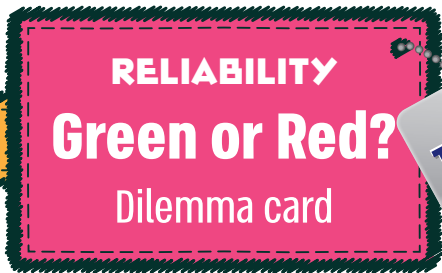

Night Guard

Your friend guarded before you at night, but instead of waking you he just went to sleep. The next day, the platoon commander discovers the position was abandoned.

What do you do?

- Tell the truth, even if it endangers your friend?
- Stay silent and take the blame yourself?
- Make up a cover story to hide the truth?

Equipment Abandonment

During an exercise, you forgot your weapon in the shower. No one knows. If you confess, you might get confined to base.

What do you do?

- Confess immediately and accept the consequences?
- Stay silent and hope no one discovers?
- Try to explain or excuse otherwise?

Phone Use Against Orders

During guard duty, you used your phone despite orders forbidding it. The next day there's a "platoon honesty meeting" where everyone shares mistakes they made this week.

What do you do?

- Share honestly about the mistake?
- Hope no one discovers?

Exercise Not Performed

You're asked if you performed an exercise (shooting, lesson, shooting range) but you didn't do it. If you say you didn't do it, the entire platoon will have to redo the exercise.

What do you do?

- Tell the truth?
- Lie to save everyone from repeating the exercise?
- Look for another solution?
